Telling the Story of U.S. Impact on Corruption and Money Laundering in the Western Hemisphere

Project Title	Telling the Story of U.S. Impact on Corruption and Money Laundering in the Western Hemisphere
Project Summary	Utilizing data and research to provide summaries of INL's impact on anticorruption and anti money laundering in the Western Hemisphere, including summaries of countries legislation, recommendation on best practices, and successful programming. Assist in ensuring online data platform is user friendly
Country	United States

Project Description

This position project will help improve an already useful tool that assists INL/WHP to better manage and analyze their data. The virtual intern supporting this project will work with a team of data management experts to review data visualizations for errors and inconsistencies. They will also assist in reviewing platform layout, look and feel, and functionalities; suggesting improvements; user testing of new pages; and extensive proof reading of online content. The intern will also conduct research on anti corruption and anti money laundering regimes in the Western Hemisphere. Research will inform use of INL's foreign assistance and determine future programming.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Analytical writing
Data analysis
Data visualization
Infographic design
Research
Storytelling/blogging/vlogging
Writing

Additional Information

Experience with online platform design, data visualizations, statistics, Excel and/or Power Bi useful. Interest in data visualizations, international narcotics and law enforcement trend analysis, and website design recommended.

Language Requirements

Language Speaking Proficiency Reading Proficiency Importance

Spanish Limited working proficiency Limited working proficiency Nice to Have